

On a seasonally adjusted basis, the increasing trend over the last two years is clearly apparent. 2008 got off to a bright start, then became more volatile only to flatten out through to December. 2009 showed somewhat less volatility but with an increasing trend emerging. Despite the VAT increase, January 2010 was a poor month due to the weather. Since then, inflationary signs have begun to appear.

Commercial Due Diligence
Commercial Recovery
Performance Improvement

A full set of Consumer Indicators are available on www.stepsolutions.co.uk CLICK HERE for full details

