

In May 2006, the total outstanding broke through the Trillion Pound barrier in respect of loans secured on residential properties. This landmark was soon left behind and the total has risen by a further 22% in the 27 months since. A new high has been set in each successive month, albeit remaining the same in the last quarter. It would appear that repayments are now matching the low level of new borrowings.

Commercial Due Diligence
Commercial Recovery
Performance Improvement

A full set of Consumer Indicators are available on www.stepsolutions.co.uk CLICK HERE for full details

